Israeli Tech Brings Water From Thin Air To Neighbors and Navajo Nation.

"...many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased." (Daniel 12:4)

In a first-of-its-kind study conducted at Tel Aviv University, researchers found that water generated from the air in the heart of an urban area, the city of Tel Aviv, complied with all of the strict drinking water standards set both by the State of Israel and by the World Health Organization. Making water out of air seems farfetched but the Israeli company Watergen has become a world leader in this groundbreaking technology. Dr. Michael Mirilashvili is owner & president of this company. Now that technology is helping make friends out of former enemies. Watergen's vision is to provide everyone with clean and safe drinking water and that vision is also helping strengthen ties between the Jewish state and the Arab world. They started in Abu Dhabi almost six months ago, and today, their machines are installed all over the city, (cbrnews.com) Israel agreed to dramatically increase the amount of water it supplies to Jordan in an effort to battle a devastating shortage, as Foreign Minister Yair Lapid met with his Jordanian counterpart Ayman Safadi at a crossing point over the Jordan River Thursday. (israelnews365.com 7/8) Watergen has implemented a pilot project, installing a "GEN-M water generator" in the Navajo Nation's Hard Rock Community in Arizona. (israelnews365.com 7/9)

End-Times Middle East And UN Elections

Hardliner Raisi Wins Iran Presidency in Landslide, Amid Record-Low Voter Turnout.

Iran's hardline judiciary chief won the country's presidential election in a landslide victory Saturday, propelling the supreme leader's protégé into Tehran's highest civilian position in a vote that appeared to see the lowest turnout in the Islamic Republic's history. At one time he served as the head of Iran's internationally criticized judiciary, one of the world's top executioners. (timesofisrael.com 6/18)

Bennett Confirmed as Israeli Prime Minister. Israel's parliament confirmed Natali Bennett as the country's new prime minister at the head of a narrow majority coalition of small parties that has replaced Benjamin Netanyahu for the first time in 12 years. (endtime.com 6/18)

Herzog Takes Office as Israel's 11th President, Warns of Dangers of Polarization. The new president was sworn in on same Bible as father 38 years ago. Outgoing Rivlin: 'Long live the eleventh president of the State of Israel. Long live the State of Israel.' (timesofisrael.com 7/8)

Guterres Re-elected. The UN General Assembly has appointed Antonio Guterres, former PM of Portugal, as the UN Secretary-General for a second five-year-term beginning January 1, 2022. (endtime.com 6/18)

Erdoğan's Loss In Istanbul Is Israel's Gain. When Turkish

President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan declared, during the lead-up to the country's March 31, 2019 municipal elections, that "whoever wins Istanbul, wins Turkey," he couldn't have imagined that the catchy campaign slogan was going to energize his rivals. If it didn't work, all he had to do was deem the election invalid on the basis of some phony "administrative error" and force a new round of polls for Istanbul mayor. This he did on May 6 by having Turkey's "Supreme Election Board" annul the Istanbul results. Ekrem İmamoğlu was fighting an uphill battle which made his stunning victory in both elections that much sweeter and more significant. It was a happy moment for the Turks and for the West as a whole. Perhaps İmamoğlu is now on a path to the presidency. (prophecynewswatch.com 6/27)

Money Matters

It's Too Late to Save Christmas: Retailers Brace for Shortages of Everything.

Reuters surveyed nearly a dozen suppliers and retailers of everything from toys to computer equipment in the United States and Europe. All expect weeks-long delays in holiday inventory due to shipping bottlenecks, including a global container shortage. (prophecynewswatch.com 7/8)

Report: The United States is at the End of its Government-Overspending Rope. On July 1 the Congressional Budget Office issued a report analyzing the federal budget and economic outlook highlighting the effects of rampant congressional spending, both now for years to come. The CBO now predicts a federal deficit of $3,003,000,000,000 for the current fiscal year alone. For the second year in a row, the federal government will spend nearly twice as much money as it receives in revenue. As a result of our deficits, CBO projects that the national debt will exceed the size of the nation's economy by the end of this fiscal year, just three months away.

The Cartels Have Become Millionaires. The cartels are making $25,000,000 per week bringing illegals to our southern border. Newsmax tv/Allen West 7/8) Many people die enroute, some after they arrive at the border. Many children and adults have been mistreated and raped on "their journey to freedom."

Putting U.S. Taxes Under 'Global Control'. The U.S. administration is pushing a misguided 21% global corporate minimum tax on American businesses. At the same time, the administration is pushing for a global agreement amongst foreign countries to set a foreign minimum tax rate of 15%. This is a terrible idea that, if successful, will surrender U.S. sovereignty to foreign leaders in Russia, China, Saudi Arabia, and the European Union in order to bind the world into higher taxes and bigger government. Biotech & Human Identity: The Danger Of Tampering With Our Genetic Code.

Our genetic code is a critical element in defining us as human beings and as individuals, and attempts to manipulate it raise ethical and worldview questions. Biotechnology is developing at a very rapid rate. Let's understand the distinction between Somatic Cell Gene Therapy (SCGT) and Germline Gene Therapy (GGT). The former, in current technologies, seeks to cure disorders caused by a single gene such as hemophilia or cystic fibrosis localized to a part of a person's body. SCGT does not change all the cells in a person's body, only those necessary to correct the disorder. This is relatively uncontroversial in its current form. Germline Gene Therapy modifies sperm and egg cells, thereby changing permanently the genetic makeup of the entire organism. Unlike SCGT, the changes introduced by GGT are passed down to all of the modified organism's descendants. This raises serious ethical questions to the unknown effect it might have on future generations, who would be rendered part of a human experiment without ability to give consent. As a result it has been banned in humans by Australia, Canada, Germany, the Netherlands, Switzerland, and Israel. We do not know all the things that genes do, and "correcting" a gene for one problem might create enormous problems elsewhere in future generations. (prophecynewswatch.com 7/2)

Does God Have Our Attention Yet?

As Americans Party, Our Enemies are Preparing for Military Confrontation.

July 4th celebrations across the nation were considered quite boisterous this year. But in China the mood is quite different, and the same thing is true in Russia. Politicians are talking tough about the United States, and in both cases the military is being prepared for a potential future conflict. (prophecynewswatch.com 7/5)

5 Bizarre New Plagues That Have Hit America

Within The Last 30 Days. Nature is going haywire at the same time that the very fabric of our society seems to be unraveling all around us. #1 A Plague Of Rattlesnakes. The endless megadrought in our western states is having a lot of unexpected consequences, and this includes a plague of rattlesnakes moving into urban areas. #2 A Plague Of Grasshoppers. The megadrought in our western states has also created a plague of grasshoppers. #3 Birds Dropping Dead In Very Large Numbers. Birds are suddenly dying in large numbers in Washington D.C., Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio. In Indiana, unusual bird deaths have now been reported in fifteen different counties, and authorities have absolutely no idea why this is happening. #4 Unprecedented Flooding In Detroit. A massive storm last Friday turned I-94 into a lake and caused horrific flooding in both Detroit and Dearborn. At least 1,000 cars were abandoned as highways filled up with water, a man was jet-skiing down the street in Dearborn, people were playing in a flooded part of a highway as if it were a beach on one of the Great Lakes. #5 The Worst Heatwave To Ever Hit The Northwest. We have just seen the highest temperature ever recorded in the cities of Portland, Seattle, and dozens of other northwestern cities with triple digit temps. This is being caused by a massive "heat dome", and CBS Meteorologist Jeff Berardelli says that there is only a "1/10,000+ chance" that something like this could happen. Two hundred have already died in Washington and Oregon. Our nation has entered a time of tremendous instability, and I believe that it is going to get a whole lot worse.

Why is NASA Working So Hard to Learn How to Defend the Earth From Asteroids?

Did you know that NASA is going to send a spacecraft on a suicide mission in an attempt to change the trajectory of a massive space rock? Could it be possible that there is something heading toward Earth in the future that they haven't told us about yet? (prophecynewswatch.com

A World In Crisis

Poking God In The Eye - Representatives Call for Labeling Jewish Judaea & Samaria Illegal.

An ambiguous statement by a state department representative leaves open the possibility that the U.S. could call for Israel to turn over the Golan to Syria at the same time that 73 in the US House of Representatives sent a letter to the president calling for the state department to declare it illegal for Jews to live in Judaea and Samaria. (prophecynewswatch.com 6/27) See Matthew 24:16-20. The Jews in Judaea will have to flee for their lives during the Great Tribulation.

Crisis in Iran and Iraq. No electricity. In Iran, extreme heat reaching well over 122°F has caused a demand for power that far exceeds the supply. Large swaths of the country are either without electricity or experiencing regular power outages. This has caused unprecedented infighting within the new presidential administration and has people taking to the streets, some even demanding "death to the dictator" referring to Ayatollah Khamenei. Because Iran is a power source for other countries, their situation has had terrible consequences in surrounding nations, particularly Iraq. For the first time since the Gulf War, power went out at Baghdad airport. Water is scarce and there is no electricity for refrigerators. People are suffering. The situation is made that much worse by militia groups who have blown up more than 70 high voltage towers in order to make the misery worse.

Lebanon Has Entered Cycle of Unending Crisis. The current crisis is over fuel prices and declines in exchange rates. There were protests in late June over a hike in fuel prices and protests against banks on June 26 when demonstrators attacked the Lebanese Swiss Bank and other branches as the local currency hit record lows. Israeli Defense Minister Benny Gantz has offered to provide assistance to Lebanon. Lebanon also has an armed state-within-a-state called Hezbollah, which siphons off cash, plays a role in security, carries out extrajudicial assassinations and increasingly operates a parallel network of health, banking, construction and even supermarket services. These factors have hollowed out Lebanon, leaving it an empty shell. The Supreme Islamic Sharia Council, which represents the Sunni community and its leaders in Lebanon, has renewed its support for Saad Hariri, the prime minister-designate, amid an escalating dispute over the failure to form a government in the country, Arab News reported.

Your Tax Dollars At Work: Palestinian Jihad Summer Camps.

As the U.S. and others send funds to help residents of the Gaza Strip after the recent war, the leaders of the Palestinians are busy preparing the next generation for more hate and violence. The goal of youth camps, according to Hamas and PIJ, is "to ignite the flame of jihad among the generation of liberation, instill Islamic values and prepare the next triumphant army for the liberation of Palestine."
